

Primary Palette Color in Use

BACKGROUND COLORS

A high proportion of pieces should use warm white backgrounds to create the sophisticated, airy compositions that define our visual style.

80%

Roughly 80 percent of backgrounds use warm white backgrounds or are full-bleed photography.

Even when full-bleed photography serves as a background, compositions remain predominantly open and airy, allowing the background image to breathe and act as negative space.

